

Free Thermal Imaging Workshop and Thermal Imaging Camera Loan

Guildford Borough Council have two thermal imaging cameras available for loan to Guildford Borough residents to survey your own home. Thermal imaging cameras have lots of practical uses including detecting:

- missing insulation in your home
- draughts
- moisture defects
- thermal bridges in buildings
- and electrical faults

Camera loan is dependent upon attending a free training workshop which guides you through use of the camera and interpretation of information when surveying your home.

Courses last approximately one hour with the opportunity for further questions. Our next thermal imaging workshop takes place on Thursday 12 October.

Thursday 12 October Workshop

Together with Ecopare Ltd, we will be running training sessions in Guildford town centre on how to use the thermal imaging camera to survey your home on Thursday 12 October at:

- 5pm
- 7pm

The course is free to attend and booking is essential. After completing the training you will be able to book and use Guildford Borough Council's thermal imaging camera to survey your own home.

To book, please visit the Eventbrite booking page.

To find out more about the courses, please contact the Climate Change Team by emailing climatechange@guildford.gov.uk or calling 01483 444509.